

Tia Delaney-Stewart MSN, RN, PHN, CCM

Tia Delaney-Stewart earned both a bachelor's and master's degree in nursing education from Walden University. With over 30 years of leadership experience within the healthcare industry, Tia leads with an in-depth understanding of the social and systemic barriers that plague our current healthcare systems, which fuels her passion as a dedicated advocate for the improvement of health-related services within underserved and under-resourced communities and populations.

She is the current Director of DEI for the Alzheimer's Association California Southland Chapter, serves as a Los Angeles County (District 2) Commissioner for Hospital and Healthcare Delivery Systems, and volunteers as an advisory board member with various nursing and social justice organizations such as the Council of Black Nurses, AARP National Nurse Leadership Team, National Action Network, Ageing While Black, and The Mervyn Dymally Institute at Cal State University Dominguez Hills.

Tia believes there is value in empowering her community with health-related education and aims to support the aging population with the necessary tools to age with the grace, dignity, and optimal health that they deserve.
